News Report

Guardsman's Death At Neuve Chapelle

Private George Carson, 1st Grenadier Guards, brother of Mrs. Deakin, 3 Adelaide Street, Poulton, was killed in action at Neuve Chapelle on March 12th. Born in Liscard, he was well-known in that district, having attended St. Mary's School.

At the outbreak of the war he was in Canada and as a reservist received a summons home, passing through England without seeing any of his friends or relatives, and was drafted to the front in September. Before going to Canada, he was employed on the London and North-Western Railway, Birkenhead. He leaves a young widow and two children. The youngest he has never seen, having been born while his father was in the trenches. Private Carson is the youngest of three sons of the late Robert and Elizabeth Carson, of Liscard, who are serving with the colours. Sergeant T. Carson who served with the Grenadier Guards through the Boar War, is in the 14th Cheshire Regiment, and Private J. Carson is training in the 18th Cheshire Regiment.
