Seacombe Soldier Dies From Wounds

Gunner James Gatley, of the Royal Garrison Artillery, died from wounds received in action at the Australian Casualty Clearing Station, France, on June 19. His wife, who is left with seven children, resides at 39, Hawthorndale Road, Seacombe.

Capt. P. Havelock Davies writes expressing the sincerest sympathy of himself and the Battery. "In losing a comrade who has been with us in the struggles of active service."

The Rev. G. Kennedy Tucker, C.F., also writes expressing sympathy, and adding, "Your husband did his duty, and did it well. His sacrifice has been great, but you may rest assured that his reward will be greater."
