News Report

Set A Fine Example

Private William Marsh, of the Liverpool Pals, was killed in action on June 27. He was 34 years of age and was the husband of Mrs. H. March, 22, Fairfax Road, Seacombe. He was a dock-gateman at the Alfred Dock for over three years.

Colonel Fairfax, writing to Mrs. Marsh says:-"I sympathise so deeply with you in your loss – if you will allow me to say so – is my great loss. Your husband was a splendid man, and set a fine example. He put up with great hardships, without grumbling, during the horrible winter months in the trenches, and died a gallant man on June 27 before a big attack on July 1st. He has been reverently buried in Maricourt Cemetery. Please accept my deepest sympathy."
