Death Of Seacombe Naval Officer

We regret to announce the death of Me. John McGinty, late of the Royal Navy, at his residence, 13, Bruce Street, Seacombe, on Sunday last. Deceased, who was a member of an old Wallasey family, joined the Navy twenty years ago and served continuously up to May 4th of this year when he was invalided from the service. He has seen active service in China, being on a three years' commission at the time of the Boxer rising, for which he held the medal. He has also been on constant duty in the North Sea during the present war. He was an old St. Joseph's School boy. The internment took place from St. Joseph's Church, at 2 pm. on Thursday, full naval honours being accorded. The popularity of the deceased officer was manifested in the number of wreaths and floral tributes seen at the church and the graveside.
